

Professional Workshops

The team offers a termly calendar of training on a range of topics, strategies and interventions to develop the strengths and support the needs of children and young people with an ASD.

All workshops are aimed at teachers, support staff and other professionals working with individuals with social communication difficulties, including children and young people with a diagnosis of ASD.

"Training both in and out of school has been very good. All staff who have attended have found it very useful. It has had a big impact on staff's understanding of Autism and awareness of children's difficulties."

Jane Beagles - St Winifred's Infant School

"It was very informative and supportive. The leaders of the workshop were very experienced and knowledgeable. The suggestions were extremely useful. I would recommend this training for all teacher/support staff working with children with ASD needs."

Teacher - Stillness Infant School

The cost per person is £50.00 and information on all workshops is available on our website.

Service Level Agreement

The overall purpose of this service level agreement is to improve outcomes for pupils with ASD in mainstream schools by building school capacity through facilitating training and resource development.

Drumbeat provides guidance, training and work with children and young people and their teachers in mainstream schools.

The aims and objectives of the service are:

- To provide a responsive service which will enable mainstream schools to effectively include pupils with ASD
- To help schools to meet the needs of specific pupils
- To work in partnership with school staff, pupils, parents/carers and other outside agencies involved, ensuring a coordinated approach
- To support pupils in making progress and reaching their potential
- To develop staff skills and school resources through the exchange of knowledge and expertise
- Working in partnership with schools and early years settings, providing early intervention support so that children's needs are assessed and met in a timely way
- Providing targeted support to children with ASD in mainstream schools, including working with children and staff to disseminate good ASD practice.

Here are some comments from schools about our partnership working with them within the SLA.

"Fantastic ladies working with our children, always an email away and approachable. We really appreciated the resources that were tailor made by them for our children/parents."

Arlette Bayouni - St Augustine's Primary School

"Drumbeat's visits were fantastic! You were so helpful and supportive, great at modelling - the whole team were inspired and felt very affirmed to boot. Perfect timing - great idea - thank you!"

Ali Carter - Beecroft Garden Primary School

"Drumbeat is regularly available when phoned (including early morning, before school starts) and always responds to requests for help and info. Drumbeat has visited regularly beyond school hours so that class teachers have the benefit of your help."

Caroline Bellew - Ashmead Primary School

"Being able to get advice and support, especially with children in the nursery. Having staff deliver a parent coffee morning is helping us to extend our parent engagement. It has also helped parents understand that they are not alone."
